Remuneration Policy

for Members of the Management Board and Supervisory Board of Orange Polska S.A.

This remuneration policy for Members of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board of Orange Polska S.A. (the "Remuneration Policy") supports the implementation of the Company's strategy and the protection of its long-term interests by shaping market-competitive salaries conducive to employment stability in key positions.

In this Remuneration Policy, the notion of Members of the Management Board means both the President of the Management Board and other members of the Management Board, and the notion of Members of the Supervisory Board means both the Chairman of the Supervisory Board and other members of the Supervisory Board, in both cases regardless of functions performed thereby.

In the case of Members of the Management Board, significant components of remuneration depend on the achievement of both short-term and long-term objectives of the Company. The adopted model focuses on and strengthens the involvement of Members of the Management Board in the implementation of the Company's strategy.

In order to maintain both consistency and competitiveness of remuneration, the market competitiveness of the salaries for Members of the Management Board and other employees is monitored using independent market surveys. The working conditions and salary of the Company's employees reporting to a given Member of the Management Board and the scope of tasks performed by these employees are taken into account when determining the remuneration of Members of the Management Board. These are also taken into account when determining the targets which the variable remuneration component depends on. Some of the objectives used to determine payment of the variable remuneration component may be similar or identical for both Members of the Management Board and employees holding key positions in the Company.

Regarding Members of the Management Board employed directly by the Company (e.g. contribution in the employee pension scheme, some nonmonetary benefits), some of the remuneration elements to which they are entitled are granted based on internal regulations which are also applicable to the Company's employees other than Members of the Management Board. As a result, these employees' salaries and working conditions have been taken into account in the determination of the remuneration principles specified in this Remuneration Policy.

Members of the Management Board are appointed by the Supervisory Board and the term of office of each Member of the Management Board lasts three years. For the duration of their term of office, contracts of employment are concluded with Members of the Management Board employed directly by the Company. Some Members of the Management Board may be employed in another company of the Orange SA group (a parent company of Orange Polska S.A.) and posted to Orange Polska S.A. in order to perform the function of a Member of the Management Board.

Members of the Supervisory Board are appointed and dismissed by the General Meeting, and the term of Members of the Supervisory Board lasts three years, with the restriction that if the mandate of a Member of the Supervisory Board expires for reasons other than expiry of their term of office or dismissal from the position of a Member of the Supervisory Board, the remaining Members of the Supervisory Board may appoint a new member of the Supervisory Board by a two-thirds majority of votes cast. The mandate of the appointed Member of the Supervisory Board expires on the date of the next General Meeting, held no earlier than 5 weeks after the appointment. The number of Members of the Supervisory Board so appointed may not exceed 3 persons.

No contracts related to their functions in the Supervisory Board are concluded with Members of the Supervisory Board.

(A) Remuneration and other cash and non-cash benefits that may be granted to Members of the Management Board consist of:

1. base salary;

2. benefits from short-term incentive programs (STI) - performance-based bonus;

4. benefits from long-term incentive programs (LTI);
5. base premium for participation in the employee pension scheme;
6. employment termination benefits;

I. Base salary

1. The individual base remuneration of a Member of the Management Board takes into account:
  - a) recruitment negotiations with candidates applying for appointment to the Management Board,
  - b) change of the remuneration during the term of office for a Member of the Management Board depending on the current evaluation of work.
2. The Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board recommends to the Supervisory Board the amount of remuneration for each Member of the Management Board based on the following premises:
  - a) scope of responsibilities and complexity specific to the position;
  - b) individual contributions of Members of the Management Board to the implementation of the Company's strategy;
  - c) market competitiveness of the remuneration;
  - d) recommendations of the Member of the Management Board responsible for managing human resources in the Company (does not apply to the remuneration of the Member of the Management Board responsible for managing human resources in the Company);
  - e) recommendations of the President of the Management Board (does not apply to the remuneration of the President of the Management Board).
3. Based on the recommendations of the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board, the Supervisory Board determines the base remuneration for each Member of the Management Board.

II. Benefits from short-term incentive programs (STI) - performance-based bonus

1. Each of the Members of the Management Board is entitled to a variable remuneration (bonus) dependent on their performance (achievement of objectives).
2. The variable part of remuneration is determined in annual settlement periods, and the basis for its calculation is an evaluation of the achievement of objectives defined for each Member of the Management Board, in an individual task sheet.
3. The objectives, the achievement of which determines the variable component of remuneration, include:
  - a) solidarity objectives,
  - b) individual objectives.
4. The total weighting of the objectives is 100%, with the weighting of each objective determined for each year by the Supervisory Board based on the recommendation of the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board, considering the strategy, long-term interests and stability of the Company, as well as social interests, the Company's contribution to environmental protection, and taking measures aimed at preventing and eliminating the negative social effects of the Company's operations.

5. Solidarity objectives are common to all Members of the Management Board.
6. Individual objectives are related to the specific nature of the function performed in the Management Board by a Member of the Management Board.
7. Each goal has a minimum and maximum level of achievement.
8. The Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board recommends to the Supervisory Board the yearly objectives for each Member of the Management Board based on:
  - a) the Company's business plans for a given period;
  - b) scope of responsibility of a given Member of the Management Board;
  - c) recommendations of the Member of the Management Board responsible for managing human resources in the Company;
  - d) recommendations of the President of the Management Board.
9. Based on the recommendations of the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board, the Supervisory Board determines the annual objectives for each Member of the Management Board.
10. The objectives of the Members of the Management Board for a given settlement period are communicated to each Member of the Management Board before the end of the 8th week of the relevant year at the latest.
11. Together with the objectives, the Members of the Management Board are provided with an algorithm allowing them to calculate the value of the variable remuneration component if appropriate values for annual objectives are assumed.
12. The evaluation of the achievement of objectives after the end of the year is carried out by the Supervisory Board based on:
  - a) data on the Company's business performance (the measure of achieving solidarity and individual quantitative objectives is objectively measurable data);
  - b) assessments made by the President of the Management Board with regard to the qualitative objectives of other Members of the Management Board;
  - c) assessments made by the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board with regard to the qualitative objectives of President of the Management Board;
  - d) opinions of the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board.
13. If objectives are assessed to have been achieved in 100%, the amount of the variable component of the remuneration is 50% of the base remuneration due for a given period under an employment contract. The achievement of the set objectives below or above 100% entails a lower or higher amount of the variable remuneration.

100% achievement of solidarity targets means that the Company has achieved its budget targets for the year. Each goal has a specified minimum level of achievement below which the bonus is not received. Each goal also has a specified maximum level of achievement above which the bonus does not increase. The maximum level of variable remuneration that Members of the Management Board may receive is 100% of annual base salary.
14. The process of evaluating the objectives and paying the variable remuneration component to Members of the Management Board is conducted at the end of the second month following the end of the given year which the assessment concerns, unless some data necessary for the evaluation of the objective implementation are only available later.
15. A Member of the Management Board is entitled to receive advance payments on the variable remuneration component for a given period, on the terms specified in an employment contract or the Supervisory Board resolution.

16. In certain situations and within times defined in employment contracts and in relation to delegated Members in other appropriate documents, variable remuneration paid should be reimbursed in whole or in part after the payment to a given Member of the Management Board of the variable remuneration component in the amount corresponding to the degree of the implementation of the objectives by this Member. In particular, a Member of the Management Board is obliged to reimburse the amount of the advance payment on the variable remuneration component if objectives for the entire year are not fulfilled to a degree sufficient to obtain the variable remuneration component at least in the amount of the advance payment and also in some cases of material errors in the calculation of the variable remuneration components including those resulting from incorrect source data.
17. In addition, a Member of the Management Board, apart from the variable remuneration component, may be granted the right to additional bonuses if the Company achieves a specific financial objective (with a result above the budget plan for the year). The additional bonus is paid only if the set goal is achieved at 100%. If the achievement is less than 100%, the additional bonus is not paid. The decision to establish an additional bonus, and the conditions for obtaining it is made by the Supervisory Board at the request of the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board. ### Description of Measures Taken to Avoid Conflicts of Interest Related to the Remuneration Policy or to Manage Such Conflicts of Interest

The basic mechanisms aimed at avoiding conflicts of interest arise out of the provisions of the Code of Commercial Companies and the Act on Public Offering and Terms of Introducing Financial Instruments to Organised Trading and on Public Companies.

Conditions of employment, including the amount of remuneration of Members of the Management Board, are determined by the Supervisory Board, and the amount of remuneration of the Members of the Supervisory Board is determined by the General Meeting. The Remuneration Policy is adopted by the General Meeting after considering a motion of the Management Board and an opinion of the Supervisory Board.

The above solution significantly limits the possibility of a conflict of interest related to the Remuneration Policy.

Notwithstanding the above, an important advisory role in determining the remuneration policy in Orange Polska is fulfilled by the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board. The Committee's main task is to give recommendations to the Supervisory Board on appointing, achieving the objectives, as well as principles and amounts of remuneration for Members of the Management Board.

The market competitiveness of remuneration of Members of the Management Board is monitored by the Remuneration Committee of the Supervisory Board on the basis of studies of external experts carried out in order to ensure the remuneration objectivity.

The Company's process for determining the remuneration of Management Board and Supervisory Board members safeguards against conflicts of interest, as no member of the Management Board or Supervisory Board participates in the process of determining his or her own remuneration.
